

Our Mission

Presidio Hill School is a co-educational independent school committed to multiculturalism and the development of our students into active and responsible participants in the world.

By tradition and current emphasis, Presidio Hill encourages children to question, evaluate, and think creatively and independently. Social, emotional, physical, and intellectual growth is promoted through an enriched individualized program. Basic and practical skills are taught as useful tools rather than ends in themselves. Children are encouraged in their strengths, assisted in overcoming weaknesses, and recognized for their uniqueness.

Parents, staff, and students participate in decision making as a collaborative school community.
